Greetings from the President of the KOWIN DC Chapter

Dear KOWIN DC members,

It has been almost six months since our last newsletter. The hot summer has passed and fall is upon us. I hope you all had nice vacations and were able to relax a little bit. Our members have accomplished many things and we want to share their news with you.

First of all, six people, including our new fellow Erika Shin, attended the 2011 KOWIN International Convention in Ulsan, Korea. This year’s main theme was “Green Korea.” Included in the main theme was “Service and Giving” which provided much food for thought. In addition to the wonderful experiences similar to the ones we had at past KOWIN conventions, a special feature of this year’s meeting was the availability of simultaneous translation in English, Russian, and Japanese. This is a significant change, which will enable second-generation Korean American women leaders with limited Korean language proficiency to participate in future conventions.

Two of our members, Jung Hee Lee and Jennifer Ahn, received KOWIN Achievement Awards, and another member, Sue-Kyong Shin Vittas, gave two presentations at the 2nd KOWINNER International Convention in Hong Kong in June. (Any member who has attended a KOWIN convention in Korea in the past is eligible to be a KOWINNER.) The next convention will be held in Romania.

The KOWIN DC Chapter continues to grow and become better organized. At our July meeting, Sami Lauri was elected the 2nd Vice President, and the Next Generation Committee was created.

We will be holding this year’s Leadership Seminar, the most important annual event for KOWIN DC, on November 19. Despite her very busy schedule, Balbina Hwang graciously accepted the Seminar Chair’s role. Detailed information on the seminar will be available through e-mails as well as through our much anticipated website. The website will be launching soon, so please look out for the announcement. Just as in last year’s seminar, this year’s seminar will be targeting young professional Korean American women poised to become our future leaders. I sincerely hope KOWIN DC can play a significant role in creating opportunities for them to contribute to the common good of the United States and Korea.

Finally, we are planning to have a fun-filled year-end party on December 10 at the prestigious Cosmos Club, so please mark your calendars. This is an open party for all area women leaders and their guests, so bring your friends, spouses, mentors, and mentees.

I look forward to working with you and seeing you at these events. Thank you for your continued support.

KOWIN DC CHAPTER • 1
KOWIN Dinner Meeting with Korean Minister of Gender Equality and Family

February 25, 2011, DC Chapter

The KOWIN DC Chapter held a special dinner meeting on women’s leadership on February 25. The guest of honor was the Korean Minister of Gender Equality and Family, Paik Hee-young. The audience consisted of KOWIN members as well as Korean American women leaders representing various social and professional sectors in the Washington Metropolitan Area. A total of sixty people attended this event, including ministry officials and local Korean news reporters. During the meeting Minister Paik was presented with a pin created by Professor Komelia Hongja Okim. The dinner was held at Sea Catch Restaurant in Georgetown.

In her keynote speech at the 55th session of the United Nations Commission on the Status of Women (UN CSW) at the UN Headquarters in New York, Paik pointed out that education is essential to women’s human rights and upward mobility. Elaborating on this point at the KOWIN DC event, she further explained that one of the ways to improve the status of women is to locate competent women and promote their employment to high-ranking positions. She also praised UN Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon for appointing many women to positions of leadership in the UN. Furthermore, she stated that she hoped that the Korean government would take a more active position in the movement to resolve gender inequality issues worldwide, particularly given its elevated position in the global society today.

July 20, 2011, Chicago Chapter

On July 20, the KOWIN Chicago Chapter also held a dinner meeting on women’s leadership with Minister Paik at the Glen Club, IL. A total of 40 people attended it and they presented Paik with a crystal plaque to welcome and thank her. Myong Ho Nam, President of KOWIN DC, was also in attendance.

2011 KOWIN Seminars & Conventions

2011 Ulsan KOWIN International Convention

This summer, from August 30 to September 1, the annual KOWIN International Convention was held in Ulsan, Korea. Approximately 500 Korean women leaders (both from Korea and overseas) participated. The government of Ulsan metropolitan city, the Overseas Korean Foundation (OKF), the Ministry of Gender Equality and Family, and the Maeil Economy News sponsored the event. Under the theme “Global

The opening ceremony was attended by many prominent figures, including the Minister of Gender Equality and Family, Paik Hee-young; the Mayor of Ulsan Metropolitan City, Park Maeng-woo; the Chair of the Presidential Council on Nation Branding, Lee Bae-yong; the Democratic Party Representative and Chair of the National Assembly Committee on Women and Family, Choi Young-hee; Lawyer Kang Gui-won; and the former Congresswoman Lee Yeon-sook. On the second day of the event, Minister Paik appointed 20 women leaders the 5th Regional Directors of KOWIN. They will hold their positions until 2013.

During the convention, KBS Producer Goo Soo-hwan’s special lecture titled, “Sharing is a New Type of Korean Wave: the Leadership of Lee Tae Suk the World Witnessed,” deeply moved the audience. Producer Goo introduced Father Lee Tae Suk’s selfless life devoted to children and the sick in Sudan until his premature death from colon cancer, with a documentary film, “Don’t Cry for Me, Tonj (Sudan),” offering to the participants a humanitarian question envisioning how to live the rest of their lives.

Other notable activities in the event included the book donation program, whereby participants gave about 350 children’s books and novels in their local languages to the Ulsan Multicultural Family Support Center, and the special outings to Ulsan Hyundai Manufacturing Industry, the Bulguk Temple, and Taehwa Riverside Park. The convention concluded with a tea time at Cheongwadae (the Blue House) with First Lady Kim Yoon-ok.

Six members from the KOWIN DC Chapter attended the convention: Dr. Myong Ho (Lucy) Nam, Seok-Nam Chung, Dr. Yongsook Victoria Suh, Jung Ran Lim, Kimberly Gube, and Erika Shin.

<Participants’ Comments>

“There were some personal challenges of communication during the Convention because I am not fluent in Korean. However, I thoroughly enjoyed meeting with the highly talented and skilled participants. The highlight of the event was the Blue House tour and the tea party with the First Lady.”

—Kimberly Gube

“Participating in the Convention was an unexpected yet precious gift to me. I was able to meet many fabulous women leaders from all over the world and gained valuable insights that cannot be learned from a textbook. Each one’s story was very touching and inspirational.”

—Jung Ran Lim

“Despite my short stay in Korea, I thoroughly enjoyed participating in the Convention, including the tea party at the Blue House. I was particularly impressed by the beauty of the Taehwa Riverside Park and the magnificent view of Hyundai manufacturing facilities for cars and ships. In addition, Ms. Lee Bae-yong’s presentation on great women in Korean history was enlightening, and Mr. Goo Soo-hwan’s story about Father Lee Tae-suk was also memorable.”

—Sue Pender

“Korea, ‘the Land of the Morning Calm,’ is endowed with sedate and dignified philosophy. The KOWIN journey, however, seemed nothing close to being calm at first because it resonated with women of robust distinction and awareness. The key to the meeting was to allow me to share my uniqueness and to link the individuality as a collective whole. Ultimately, the journey was to obtain the sense of rejuvenation and belonging in ‘the Land of the Morning Calm.’”

—Yongsook Victoria Suh, M.D.

Hong Kong KOWINNER International Convention

The 2nd KOWINNER International Convention was held from June 24 to June 26, 2011, at Harbour Plaza North Point Hotel in Hong Kong. There were 120 participants representing 20 countries, including 20 young next-generation leaders. The theme of the convention was “My KOWIN, our KOWINNERs! Let’s work together to achieve our health, wealth, and growth in the coming years.”

From the KOWIN DC Chapter, Jennifer Ahn, Jung Hee Lee, and Sue-Kyong Shin Vittas attended. Jennifer Ahn and Jung Hee Lee were among the 24 successful businesswomen who were awarded for their achievements during the convention. Sue-Kyong Shin
Vittas was an invited speaker, chairing two sessions: “The G20 and the International Protocol” and “the G20 and the Next Generation’s Responsibilities.” Jung Hee Lee spoke about the cure for Alzheimer’s disease in a session about healthcare. The Honorable Former US Congressman Chang-jun Jay Kim (spouse of Jennifer Ahn) was one of the featured speakers to discuss gender equality issues and challenges.

The convention was a huge success thanks to the effort of the organization committee, which ensured smooth operation of the meeting and which provided a forum for networking and exchange. The KOWNINNERs’ next convention will be held in Bucharest, Romania.

The 5th KOWIN US Eastern Regional Conference Success & Service: Bloom where you are planted!

As part of a series of mentoring and leadership projects, the KOWIN Chicago Chapter hosted the 5th KOWIN Eastern Regional Leadership Conference at the Union League Club of Chicago on June 18, to instill confidence, positive mentorship and leadership for young Korean American women. The honorary co-chairs of this conference consisted of Congresswoman Jan Shakowsky; the Korean Minister of Gender Equality and Family, Paik Hee-young; and the 4th Regional Director of KOWIN U.S. Eastern Region, Dr. Jinhwa Suh.

The conference covered various topics about leadership, finding mentors, personal development, and success in family life and career. The participants were encouraged to find personal mentors who would inspire them by representing a vision of competent, devoted, and professional female leadership in society. The conference also provided an opportunity to network with others supporting Korean American women’s leadership.

The KOWIN DC Chapter contributed $500 for the event, where approximately 180 people participated including four KOWIN DC members: Kwang Ja Kim, Eun Ae Lee, Sue-Kyong Shin Vittas, and Myong Ho Nam. The keynote speaker, K.B. Yoon from New York, gave a powerful and heartfelt presentation based on her experience as Executive Director of the Korean American Foundation of New York on success, benefaction, and service.
